

We are looking for a CTO for an Online Platform

If you are looking for a place where you can combine technological innovation with societal progress, we have a great opportunity for you!

femconnect is an international online platform that offers bottom-up empowerment training for women. In a virtual learning room, women challenge, feedback and support each other in the development and implementation of their personal and professional goals. As a next step, we want to tackle the challenge of digitalising the moderation and facilitation of those virtual meetings. Now we need you!

Your tasks:

- research and development of a digital infrastructure in form of an online platform that supports interactive user communication
- long-term optimization and development of the platform

Your profile:

- you are a former or matriculated student of computer sciences,
- you have experience with interactive platforms like eLearning platforms,
- you are capable of programming independently, planning and leading it,
- you are curious to develop and implement innovative ideas,
- you enjoy working in a team,
- you are an open-minded and communicative person,
- you are looking for a chance to work for equal opportunities and shape the future of our society

Your benefits:

- as a co-founder in the Berlin start up world, you are shaping the pathway of our business from the beginning on
- you are able to generate societal progress with your skills
- you have flexible working times and places
- you would participate in the the "start up now" program by the Startup Incubator Berlin of the HWR (working space, mentoring, workshops)
- you take part in a promising application for the Berlin Startup Scholarship
 - 2.000 Euro per month for 6 months with the option of extension for further 6 months
 - extensive mentoring and coaching
 - coaching by external experts (1.000€)

We are very much looking forward to receive your application! Please send your CV and short motivation letter (max. one page) to: femconnect.info@gmail.com www.femconnect.info